

wp POLITICS

In the News S. Korea ferry Dartmouth Valerie Harper Obama-Biden selfie Yahoo

Oregon State Political Science Degree Online

Pro-Russian militants killed in Ukraine

Extreme behavior' ruining Dartmouth?

The kiss that created a scandal

PHOTOS | Peeps
Show 2014 winners

Bill Clinton urges adding photos to Social Security cards for voter identification

Danny Johnston/AP - Former President Bill Clinton speaks at a political fundraiser in Hot Springs, Ark.

By Karen Tumulty, Published: April 9 E-mail the writer

AUSTIN — With 34 states now requiring some form of identification at the polls, former president Bill Clinton and civil rights leader Andrew Young on Wednesday endorsed the idea of adding photos to Social Security cards as a way to prevent voter suppression.

The two made the recommendation in separate appearances at a conference at the Lyndon B. Johnson presidential library, which is commemorating the 50th anniversary of the passage of the Civil Rights Act.

Video

Former president Bill Clinton praises Lyndon B. Johnson's presidential leadership at the Civil Rights Summit, which marks the 50th anniversary of the passage of the Civil Rights Act.

More from PostPolitics

Everything you need to know about Elizabeth Warren's new book

Wesley Lowery 9:24 AM ET
We read it so that you don't have to.

What would a Mitch McConnell-led Senate look like?

Paul Kane 7:50 AM ET
More talking, more amendments, less fundraising.

America, you have issues. Talk to us.

Share which issues are important to you, your community and the country.

Read more

ADVERTISING

Get a digital subscription today

SUBSCRIBE

ADVERTISING

ADVERTISING